

University of Reading

School of Psychology and Clinical Language Sciences
Whiteknights, Reading, RG6 6AL

Study: Investigating the impact of online disinhibition on the behavioural effects of swearing

MID SESSION DEBRIEF SHEET

Supervisor:

Dr Anthony Haffey

Email

anthony.haffey@reading.ac.uk

Phone:

0118 378 8850

Experimenter:

Christopher Dobson

c.g.dobson@student.reading.ac.uk

Thank you for completing this session of our study

As mentioned on the information sheet, this study comprises three testing sessions of which this was one. Until you have completed all three testing sessions, we cannot fully explain the study aims and hypotheses, as this would potentially bias your future responses. We must, however, remind you that all the data collected during this session will be kept confidential and securely stored, with only your anonymous ID number identifying it. Also, should you wish, you may withdraw from this study without reason and penalty, by simply contacting the researchers using the contact details above. Should you wish to withdraw, all your existing data will be deleted, except for your consent form(s) which will be kept for 5 years.

The experimenter will send you an email within the next 1 to 2 days with details of when your next testing session will be available, and the link required to access it. If you haven't received this email within 5 days, please check your spam folder. If no email has arrived, please contact the researchers.

Once again, thank you again for your participation.

Dr Anthony Haffey and Christopher Dobson